Saudi Arabia to offer visitor visa for special events

The 'Sharek' visa process will be introduced in time for Formula E motor racing competition on December 15

Our Saudi Correspondent

Saudi Arabia will offer an electronic visa for foreign visitors to attend sporting and cultural events, starting with the upcoming Formula E motor racing competition in December. With this, Saudi Arabia is opening up, for the first time, its borders to fans of live sport, music and culture to welcome international tourists.

The 'Sharek' visa process will be introduced in time for a motor race on December 15, according to a statement by the General Sports Authority (GSA). The new visa process platform known as 'Sharek' was announced as part of the country's Vision 2030 plan at the launch of the Ad Diriyah E-Prix recently.

Applicants will be able to obtain 14-day visas online for 640 riyals ($170.65; ₹ 12,383) and enter from any port of entry. The new visa would grant holders "free mobility within specific Saudi territories" during, before and after an event, without detailing time limits or other restrictions.

Saudi Arabian visas are currently

The ancient historical city of Diriyah, the first seat of power for Saudi Kings, will make history again by hosting the biggest festival of racing, live music and entertainment ever witnessed in the country, including thrilling action on the track and global superstars performing on stage over three days.

Organisers hope that a large number of international fans will access the online visa process and travel to the country to witness the debut of Formula E in the Middle East and the debut of striking new-look Gen2 car for the start of season five. "This single event has the potential to change lives and change perceptions, both of the sport and of Saudi Arabia. The seeds are already growing, the track is taking shape, all with the approval of UNESCO. It is progress and preservation in one. Today is groundbreaking in all senses," said Prince Khalid.

Formula E joins sporting powerhouses such as WWE and European Tour Golf who have forged long-term partnerships with Saudi Arabia as it establishes its reputation as a destination for world-class sports events.

restricted to expat workers and their dependents, business travellers and Muslim pilgrims travelling to holy sites in Mecca and Medina. Plans to admit significant number of tourists from abroad have been discussed for years, only to be blocked by conservative opinion and bureaucracy.

Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman included tourism as one of the features of Vision 2030, a blueprint to grow the most successful Arab economy and diversify the Kingdom away from oil dependency. Additionally, the Kingdom previously announced in 2017, a multi-billion dollar project to turn 50 islands and other sites on the Red Sea into luxury resorts. The economic measure aims to increase total tourism spending to $46.6 billion in 2020 from $27.9 billion in 2015.

"With the introduction of 'Sharek', our visa entry process for fans worldwide, we can share the event. We hope the Saudi Diriyah E-Prix will see fans from around the globe come to Saudi Arabia to watch this epic sporting spectacle as now your ticket is your visa," said Prince Abdulaziz Bin Turki AlFaisal Al-Saud, Vice-Chair of the Saudi Arabia General Sports Authority, at a press conference.

Airlines companies cut UAE fares to as low as ₹ 3,600

Carriers offer discounted tickets to India, Italy, Turkey, Georgia, Armenia

Our UAE Correspondent

CARRIERS catering to the UAE market, such as Emirates, Air Arabia and flydubai have announced discounted fares for a limited time and customers can fly to select destinations for as low as Dh185 (₹ 3,600) or just a little over Dh2,000 (₹ 38,000). The budget fares apply to trips to Georgia, Armenia and India, and to other select cities in Europe, the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

The latest price cuts are in a bid to stimulate air travel demand during the lean season. According to an industry source, airlines tend to lower their fares in September and early October, when fewer UAE residents fly out.

"Historically, September and October are lean months in which capacity is available and airlines drop fares to attract passengers to fill seats and thereby earn additional revenue which would be missed if the prices were high," a travel agency official was quoted as saying.

At Air Arabia, passengers from UAE can book tickets from Sharjah to Delhi, Jaipur, Kochi, Kozhikode, Mumbai and Thiruvananthapuram in India for Dh169 (₹ 3,650).

Flights to Bahrain, Karachi, Kuwait, Muscat and Salalah are available for Dh199 (₹ 3,840).

UAE offer of retiree visa will boost economy

The five-year visa for retired expats will result in increased investment in the property sector

Our UAE Correspondent

THE UAE's decision to introduce a new five-year visa for expat retirees older than 55 will likely encourage expats to remain in later stages of their life as well as keep capital in the country, which will boost the economy, according to experts.

The government announced that expats over 55 will be able to obtain the new visa if they own a real estate investment of at least Dh$2 million, have savings of more than Dh$1 million, or can prove income of at least Dh$20,000 per month. The new visa is expected to be introduced from next year.

While the UAE's economic strength still proves to be a draw for expats, the major changes around residency rules will help create an even more stable and secure UAE and embrace a wider international appeal as a retirement destination. In addition, long-term prospects might result in more expats looking to invest. And with the retirement landscape changing, the economic and environmental situation will benefit, as more non-locals will aid the growth of healthcare, real estate and infrastructure.

The five-year visa for retired expats will result in increased investment in the property sector. One of the visa requirements is for the expat to have an investment in a property worth Dh2 million. This is likely to see increased take-up of properties and maybe even the emergence of a new alternative asset class in the UAE, retirement communities.

It may encourage retirees from elsewhere in the world to choose the UAE as a place to buy a home and move to for their retirement. The earlier announcement of 10-year residency visa for certain professionals and investors as well as 100 per cent ownership of foreign companies are expected to give an additional boost to the market since it may encourage expats to put down more stable roots in the UAE.

With many developers offering flexible payment plans, coupled with lower prices and the government's support for people to stay in the country longer, market observers hope to see continued investment in the property sector.

In line with the ongoing measures to improve investor confidence and sentiment, this new announcement is also expected to positively impact the UAE property sector over the coming years, bringing a boost to both supply and demand, by way of attracting and retaining expats after retirement.

"This is expected to trigger a paradigm shift - from being a transient destination to a long-term avenue for expats to settle down in the country post retirement," said David Abood, partner at Core, a property consultancy.

In May, the UAE approved new long-term visas for investors in the UAE, as well as those who are specialists in medical, scientific, research & technical fields, and for all scientists and innovators.

A separate five-year residency visa will also be made available to students studying in the UAE and 10-year visas for "exceptional students", the state-run WAM news agency said at the time.

RBI Deputy Governor highlights measures to strengthen MSME lending

Bank advances to the MSME sector have clocked an impressive year-on-year growth of 8.9 per cent during the first quarter of 2018-19. This indicates that the credit flow to the sector has turned robust

AAT News Service

THE MSME (micro, small and medium enterprises) sector plays an important role in any economy, and India is no exception, said N S Vishwanathan, Deputy Governor of Reserve Bank of India.

He was speaking after inaugurating FIBAC-2018, India's largest conference on banking, organised jointly by the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) and Indian Banks' Association (IBA) in Mumbai. Recognising their role as providers of employment and generators of export, the government and RBI have taken affirmative measures to strengthen the sector. And in order to ensure that the larger entities within the sector do not crowd out the smaller ones, the banks have been given specific targets to address the latter group, said Mr Vishwanathan. Among the measures highlighted by the RBI Deputy Governor was the mandate to banks to provide a fixed percentage of their lending to this sector. RBI has introduced the Trade Receivables Discounting System (TReDS) to address delays in recovery.

Steps have been taken to strengthen the credit bureaus. And it is work in progress to formulate legal amendments to address the ever-expanding data pool and how it can be used by the financial sector players for credit assessment.

"Problems in MSME are not just financial alone; there are several other areas that they need support from," said Mr Vishwanathan. He pointed out that credit to the sector has grown. "Bank advances to the MSME sector have clocked an impressive year-on-year growth of 8.9 per cent during the first quarter of 2018-19. This indicates that the credit flow to the sector has turned robust." Financial inclusion through non-bank financial institutions has been enabled by fintechs and artificial intelligence.

Mr Vishwanathan also highlighted some regulations pertaining to capital requirements for systematically large financial institutions that are too big to fail. Their financial resilience is being strengthened with higher and better quality capital; and there is a move towards reduction in model risk that had created the problem of under-capitalisation, towards standardised approaches.

RBI has also put in place a framework to contain the probability of failure of large banks. This is an ongoing process and will keep undergoing improvements. He also touched upon the need for additional capital for the domestic systematically important banks in India, informed Mr Vishwanathan.

India will become $10-trn economy by '35: Prabhu

India can set up a special economic zone for US industry which will help make US-India partnership greater again

AAT News Service

THE Union Minister for Commerce & Industry and Civil Aviation, Suresh Prabhu, said today's India is a growing India and phenomenal changes have been brought about in both social and economic sector reforms at the same time. Noting the 8.3 per cent growth in GDP in the last quarter, the minister said this is going to be consolidated, going forward. India will become a $5-trillion economy in 7 years, and certainly a $10-trillion economy by 2035.

The government has prepared a multi-sectoral strategy for the same, said the minister. He was speaking at the 'India Ideas Summit', organised by the US-India Business Council, in Mumbai.

Mr Prabhu said India shares excellent and forward-looking relationship with the US. "We will continue the constant dialogue with the US to promote greater partnership in all avenues for mutual growth."

The minister proposed that India can set up a special economic zone for US industry which will help make US-India partnership greater again. Speaking about the World Trade Organization (WTO), Mr Prabhu said WTO needs reform.

India can play the role of a facilitator in bringing about this reform, given the country's good relations with the other countries. India, US and other countries need to work together in creating a new dynamic agenda for the multilateral institution.

The minister said various reforms have been taken to improve ease of doing business. A new industrial policy will be announced soon, with the dual focus on modernising existing businesses and on getting new and futuristic businesses into the economy, said Mr Prabhu.

Twelve champion service sectors have been identified for promoting them in a systematic manner. Speaking about the growth in agriculture and horticulture, the minister said the government aims to double the income of farmers by 2022.

Speaking of exports, the minister said India has recorded the highest export growth in 2017-18, which is the highest in last six years. He expressed hope that 'Make In India' initiative will become an even bigger success in the days to come.

"Start-ups are the best laboratory for change and innovation. We already have close to 20,000 start-ups registered with Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion and we are promoting this in a major way across the country," he said.

Transactions worth more than $100 billion are targeted on Government e-Marketplace (GeM), the national procurement portal, in the next 10 years. The national mission for GeM was launched to educate and bring on-board more buyers and sellers and to promote cashless, digital transactions.

A holistic strategy is being developed to tap the potential of Indian logistics sector so as to forge better linkages between Indian manufacturing sector and the global supply chain.

On the aviation sector he said: "We are seeing a huge growth in the aviation sector. India is the fastest-growing aviation market in the world."

RECRUITMENT agents should explore the opportunity for Indian skill to the world. The fraternity can play a major role in India's mission to become the skilling capital of the world, observed Indian Personnel Export Promotion Council (IPEPCIL).

The just-concluded 38th Annual General Body Meeting of IPEPCIL in Mumbai counselled the agents to avail the opportunity to showcase Indian skills to other parts of the world, apart from the GCC countries.

Globally there is expected to be a skilled workforce shortage of 56.5 million by 2020. More than 50 per cent of Indian population is below the age of 25 and 65 per cent below the age of 35. It is expected that, in 2020 India will become the world's youngest country with an average age of 29, compared to 37 for China and 48 for Japan.

India's dependency ratio should be just over 0.4. Sixty-five per cent of India's population will be in the working age group by 2020. As per a report, today 15 million enter the job market annually and around 7-million formal jobs being created in India. This will continue for the next 10 years, while there is an urgent need to engage the remaining 8-million youth entering the workforce annually either within the country or foreign destinations.

It is clear that with a surplus workforce India need to identify domestic and global pockets of opportunities. This is the area the recruiting fraternity should concentrate and explore opportunities for the workforce to the world.

It is possible to leverage this opportunity only if appropriate and timely reforms and interventions are implemented to skill Indian youth to the global needs and standards. There is already stiff competition from countries with young demography and cheap labour like Bangladesh, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Nepal, the Philippines etc, on supplying skilled workforce to Gulf region, Japan, US and other developed nations.

The fraternity should focus on countries like Japan, Mongolia, Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Azerbaijan, certain countries in Africa, Europe etc, to diversify their location for more upcoming opportunities.

The demographic potential offers India an unprecedented edge that economists believe could add 2 per cent to the GDP growth.

The fraternity is optimistic about the present and future projects of the GCC countries, which includes Saudi Arabia's plan to build a mega city called Neom at the cost of $500 billion, to be connected to Egypt and Jordan. Neom is part of a plan to diversify the Saudi economy away from dependence on oil exports. It will be a hub for new technologies, including the creation of drones, driverless cars and robotics – in short artificial intelligence (AI).

Also, opening of cinemas will bring new job opportunities to those who are in entertainment and mass media sector. The Expo 2020-related projects in UAE, Mohammed Bin Rashid City or MBR City, tourism-based Oman has embarked on an investment drive that is creating a diversified, private sector-driven economy, and establishing the country as a major tourism destination and a strategic logistic hub for the region.

Oman's transformation offers substantial project opportunities for investors, contractors and consultants in the construction, oil & gas, power, water, wastewater and transport & logistics sectors. It is also creating exciting private sector investment opportunities in tourism, healthcare, ing future, Middle East countries will switch over to renewable energy to reduce dependence on oil. And there will be scope for expertise manpower in this sector.

Lot of manpower will be required when the rebuilding of Iraq, Libya, and Syria happens. Innovations in technologies like AI, humanoid robotics, blockchain, machine learning, 3D printing, virtual reality etc, may reduce the workforce.

Another major challenge the industry is facing is the malpracis confident that the government would work together with the fraternity and would bring the industry a respectable name.

Such action would enhance trustworthiness of Indian recruitment practices, and thereby make the business more stable and grow it to new heights. It will also help in generating confidence of the foreign employers in the Indian recruitment process.

The important aspect is to create a model code of conduct and procedures among the fraternity members. The members should all collectively work towards spotting and fixing the spurious and unethical recruiting agents. Only by doing so, the fraternity can bring back the premedical check-up and mawared services for Kuwait visa facilitation.

9. Implementation of online facility for premedical check by Gulf Heath Council.

IPEPCIL President C H Abdul Rehman said, the council has taken up various issues the industry is facing and submitted suggestion to resolve it, which include:

1. Further simplification of eMigrate system and abolition of attestation of employment contract within six months with Indian Mission as far as the single FE registration is concerned.

2. Immediate withdrawal of MRWs or their standardisation to more realistic level and making tered recruitment agents only.

7. Insurance policy should be made mandatory for all emigrants and should be renewed after the contractual period to safeguard the emigrants in case of any untoward incident. A single-page registration should be made available in the eMigrate portal for ECNR candidates to be updated by registered recruiting agents.

8. Pre-medical check-up should be regulated as per the norms of Indian Medical Council. The government should insist that medical reports from empanelled Indian hospitals should be accepted by the Gulf nations.

9. Stop the visa stamping procedures of UAE, which is a IPEPCIL has represented this issue to the ministry and other officials many times. This is one of the main reasons the new licencing system was implemented by the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) to issue new licence with ₹ 8 lakh to curb the illegal agents.

prestige and respect for the industry.

The annual report presented by the General Secretary, IPEPCIL, Sureshkumar Madhusudhanan, stated that the council represented all its concerns to various ministries and the PGE on regular basis and with continuous efforts the council could be able to achieve the following on request of the fraternity.

1. The long-awaited increase in service charge to ₹ 30,000 + GST was implemented.

2. Change of status of owners from proprietor to partnership or to private limited firm

3. Permit of individual FE (Foreign Employer) registration Indian Mission by the FE within six months.

4. Abolition of Orange Passport.

5. Abolition of PCC (Police Clearance Certificate) for UAE through the proper involvement of PGE and ministry.

6. Offloading of re-entry passengers returning after their annual vacation.

7. Relaxation of minimum submission of passport to Saudi Arabian Consulate as far as the visa stamping is concerned.

3. A single-window grievances redressal mechanism should be set up to deal with complaints from overseas workers. In any case, only complaints received from the workers themselves or their immediate family members should be entertained. Complaints from persons with absolutely no locus standi should be ignored. No complaint should be entertained without documentary evidence.

4. A proper mechanism to be introduced to sort out the unending delay, by granting auto renewal after 90 days of application.

5. The responsibility of the recruiting agent with regard to a candidate deployed by him should be capped till the probation period of six months from the date of his joining the company of the FEs. It is most unfair to hold the recruitment agents for any untoward development during the term of a worker's contract with his FE.

6. Irrespective of ECR or ECNR passport holders travelling through unregistered agents without any accountability and protection, all the recruitments should be routed through regiscumbrous procedure for emigrants to travel to New Delhi or Thiruvananthapuram. Abolish the procedure if not starting more centres in all Metro cities in India with simplified procedure.

The council acknowledged and thanked the Union Minister for Finance, Arun Jaitley; Union Minister of State for External Affairs, (Gen) V K Singh; MP & Chairman, Parliamentary Committee, MEA, Shashi Tharoor; MPs N K Premachandran, E T Mohammed Basheer, and Anto Antony; Finance Minister of Kerala, Thomas Isaac; Secretary, MEA, Dnyaneshwar Mulay; and PGEs, Mumbai, M C Luther & J K Sao apart from various officials of MEA.
